

(a) frontend sends request to postmaster via well-known network socket

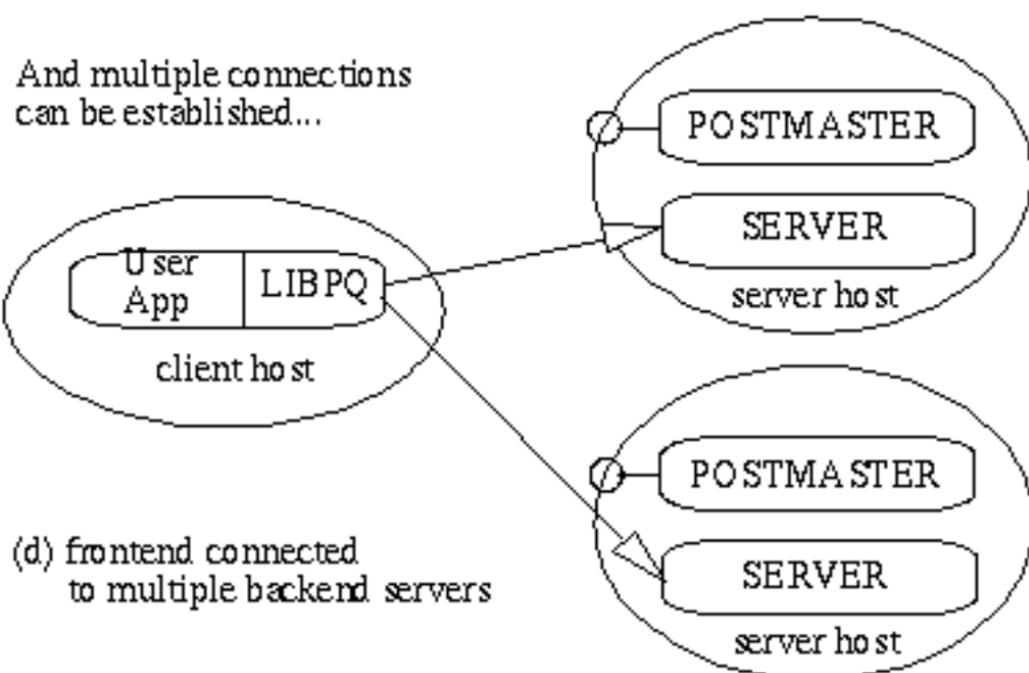

(b) postmaster creates backend server

(c) frontend connected to backend server

And multiple connections can be established...

(d) frontend connected to multiple backend servers